YLAL Campaign Bootcamp: Fighting for Legal Aid after the LASPO Review

Wednesday 13 March 2019 - 6:30-8pm

Join us on Wednesday 13 March at 6:30pm at UCL to help shape YLAL's campaigning priorities following the publication of the LASPO review and to develop your campaign skills through a series of interactive breakout sessions.

Venue: Roberts Building 110, UCL, Torrington Place, London, WC1E 7JE

Nearest tube: Euston Square

Agenda:

1. Welcome and introduction

2. Breakout sessions:

Shape YLAL's campaign priorities: Following the publication of the LASPO review and legal aid support plan, we want to hear your views about our campaign priorities. The session will be facilitated by YLAL committee members who will provide an overview of the LASPO review.

Parliamentary advocacy: This session will focus on the role of the All Party Parliamentary Group on legal aid (APPG) and how we can advocate in Parliament for a sustainable legal aid system. The session will be facilitated by Ro Teather, Head of Parliamentary Affairs at the Legal Aid Practitioners Group (LAPG) and coordinator of the APPG.

Effective communication: This session will focus on how we engage non-lawyers through telling compelling stories. The session will be facilitated by Emma Cookson, a Campaign Officer at More United. More United works across the political spectrum to advance progressive causes and is partnering with YLAL to campaign for a sustainable legal aid system.

Take your MP to work: YLAL's next big campaign will be members taking their MPs to work to show them why a properly funded legal aid system is vital. This session will be facilitated by Danielle Manson, a Third Six Pupil at Red Lion Chambers specialising in crime. In October, Danielle took her MP, Bambos Charalambous to work with her, an experience he described as "eye opening."
