Campaigning For Justice: next steps after the LASPO review

6pm, Tuesday 19 March 2019

Irwin Mitchell

Imperial House, 31 Temple Street, Birmingham, B2 5DB

1. Welcome and introduction
2. The LASPO review of legal aid cuts: next steps

Join YLAL Midlands from 6pm on Tuesday 19 March to discuss campaigning for access to justice following the government review of the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act 2012 ('LASPO').

Almost six years after LASPO came into force and made huge cuts to legal aid, the Ministry of Justice published its 'post-implementation review' of the Act and 'legal support action plan' in February 2019.

This meeting will discuss the outcome of the review and the government's action plan, and start to think about the next steps YLAL should take in campaigning for justice. We are also delighted to be joined for this meeting by Linden Thomas, vice-president of Birmingham Law Society.

Whether you are a student, paralegal, trainee, pupil or qualified junior lawyer, we want to hear your ideas and views!
