YLAL Midlands presents:

Women in Law

A discussion of access to (and retention within) the legal profession and judiciary for women and the importance of gender equality and diversity

6pm, Wednesday 13 June 2018

KCH Garden Square Chambers
1 Oxford Street, Nottingham, NG1 5BH

- 1. Welcome and introduction
- 2. Women in Law

We are delighted to be joined by three excellent speakers, who will share their experiences as women in the solicitors' profession, at the Bar and in the judiciary:

- District Judge Pami Dhadli, judge on the Midland Circuit
- Michelle Heeley QC, criminal barrister at No 5 Chambers
- Faye Deverell, senior supervising solicitor at NLS Legal Advice Centre

Our speakers will talk about their backgrounds and routes into the profession, the barriers and challenges facing women entering the legal profession, what women in particular bring to the profession and why we need a diverse profession, and what can be done to encourage women to work in the law and stay there.

- 3. Refreshments at KCH Garden Square
